

MEDICINE

When the hair begins to fall out and lose its lustre and beauty by turning gray or faded, what more evidence is needed to prove that its health is affected?—and that it needs medicine? No more, I assure you, for there is a cause for every symptom that the hair gives of turning gray or losing its beauty in any form. For as the hair is a part of the human body, it is subject to aliment as well as any other part, and therefore should be treated intelligently. But contrary to this common sense logic, no greater insult or worse abusa could be heaped upon this defenseless member of our person than the use of hair dye. To color the poor, sick nair with the hair dye, and thereby drown its feeble cry for nourishment, is itself a sin and a crime against nature. Shame on ignorant humanity that will not yield to the laws of nature and sludy the needs of their own body. When the hair begins to fall out and

MME. M. YALE'S HAIR TONIC

Is a medicine for curing sick hair. It is the only remedy on record known to restore the natural color to gray hair. It nourishes the roots and gives circulation to the oil ducts, permeating it with nature's own coloring matter that flows through the channels of the hair when it is in a k-aithful state as faithfully as the warm blood does through the veins.

Mme, Yale's Hair Tonic is the result of a careful analysis of the human hair by Mme, Yale, that wonderful woman chemist and scientist, who guarantees Yale's Hair Tonic to contain precisely the natural constituents of the hair's own matter prepared to a chemical form. It stops the hair falling in from twenty-four hours to one week. Cures Dandruff; softens dry, harsh hair; makes the hair soft, glossy and fluffy; keeps it in curl, and cures all manner of scalp diseases and hair aliments, producing a growth of luxuriant hair of its own rich, natural color, no matter what that may be—black, blonde or brown.

CURIOUS EFFECTS

Painful, but Not Serious, Accidents Have Upon Some People. New York Tripune.

"It has been my Ill luck," said Horace Marston, of Portland, Me., at the Fifth painful accidents, and they had once or twice a curious effect on the sufferer. Years ago I was standing beside a gun at a state muster at Augusta, when a salute to the governor, who had just come on the field, was being fired. The canno used was of the old-fashloued kind, and it was prematurely discharged, with the result that the index finger of the right hand of the man ramming the load home was blown off. The shock, together with the lodgment of flying particles of pow-der, had the effect of driving the blood back from the wound, during which frag-ment of time the lajured man calmiy ex-amined his mangled hand; but when the blood did come back it came with a rush, and fairly bubbled out in a torrent. The man's calmness left him as if by magic at the sight of the blood, and with a loud scream he keeled over in a dead fairly. They used to tell a story there of two men who were working on opposite sides of a buzz saw. The attention of one becoming momentarily distracted, he can his finger against the saw, and the severed piece dropped on the other side where his partner was with the casual remark, 'Bill, you've dropped something,' handed it back to its owner. Bill didn't faint, but it is only owing to the superior burst of speed de-veloped by his partner that he is not doing time for homicide with extenuating circumstances at Thomaston today."

Mrs. Knowles Asks What People With One Girl Are to Do. In speaking of the eight-hour schedul that Mrs. Emmons Blaine has adopted for her servants, Mrs. Christian Hegeman, recording secretary of the New York State Household Economic association, EIGHT-HOUR SERVANTS.

"From what I have been able to lcarn of the pian followed by Mrs. Blaine, it would not be possible to households keeping only one or two servants. As a matter of fact, the duties of a household where one or two servants are employed are not arduous. A girl's hours, judged from the time her duties begin in the morning until after the work is over for the evening, are long, but it must be borne in mind that the work is not coatinuous. If a girl works without system or intelligence, she may manage to fill in all the day performing duties that a girl with average skill could so arrange that she would have several hours to herself each day.

"American servants are well paid, live well, have comfortable accommodations, and enjoy a degree of independence far beyond that of domestics in any other country. If they are thrifty they can lay aside money from the generous wages paid by American women, Compared with the hours women give to factory work, household labor pays better, gives a girl home comforts of which she is otherwise deprived, and is steady as well as
