RATS AND MICE need homes of their own. Plastic and glass aquariums make great places for mice to live. Large aquariums and wire cages are great for rats. Just make sure your cage doesn't have a wire floor or shelves. Rats can get their legs caught and hurt themselves.

Rats and mice don't like to be in a draft or in sunlight. Find a place for your furry friends home where its protected from cold air and the sun.

Toys are a great way to make your critters home much more interesting. You can buy toys at the pet store or make your own. Mice love to play and sleep in toilet paper tubes; Kleenex boxes make perfect mouse houses. Rats need bigger toys. A shoe box makes a great ratty play house and a big piece of rope tied across their cage makes the perfect ratty bridge. You can come up with lots of other great toys for your critters, just use your imagination!
